give Congressional endorsement to so-called freedom of choice school desegregation plans, and to school districts which resist desegregation.

Scott said there definitely will be an attempt to erase those provisions. The Senate is working against a Saturday deadline. That is when the current spending authority of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Department of Labor, will expire. Congress continued their spending authority by joint resolution.

Mansfield said if there is another appropriations bill veto, Congress may drop the effort to pass one acceptable to Nixon, and simply vote to finance the agencies involved by resolution through June 30, the end of the current bookkeeping year.

Magnuson said there had been some reports Nixon might veto such a resolution, since it would authorize spending at the rate originally voted by the House, and that exceeds the budget. "If he would do that, I suppose we would just pass another one," said Mansfield.

Mrs. Hattie Caraway of Arkansas was the first woman to be elected to the U.S. Senate—in 1933.

Court Lets Damage Case Ruling Stand

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court refused Monday to overturn a Jefferson County Circuit Court decision in which a property damage suit was filed against a church.

Circuit Judge Henry W. Smith of Pine Bluff ruled in favor of the Trinity Lutheran Church in Pine Bluff, citing charitable immunity.

Otis Lemay, a property owner adjacent to the church, asked for $5,872 in damages against the church when a tree on church property fell and damaged his home.

In another decision, the Supreme Court reversed a Madison County Circuit Court ruling that held there was not enough evidence to bring suit against an Illinois resident over the purchase of three Arkansas horses. The court records indicated that Tom Hughes, owner of an Illinois stable, sent an employee to Arkansas to buy three horses. The horses were allegedly purchased from Bob Wichman, a Madison County resident. Wichman charged that checks given to him for payment on the horses were not honored and that payment on them apparently had been stopped.

The only question on the appeal, according to Associate Justice George Smith, was whether Hughes sufficiently transacted business in Arkansas courts to exercise personal jurisdiction over him under the Uniform Interstate and International Procedure Act.

Explains U.S. Financed School Programs

James H. Jones, Superintendent of Schools, stated today that in recent weeks there have been some inquiries from interested school patrons concerning the purpose and scope of activities and services provided by federally funded education programs for the pupils in Hope schools.

More specifically, there seems to be some misconceptions or misunderstanding of the purposes of Elementary and Secondary School Act of 1965. There are at present several titles in ESEA of 1965, but the one that is of most aid to our District is Title I.

Title I is usually referred to as the poverty section of the Act. It was designed and written to provide educational activities and personal services to the educationally and economically deprived students in the public schools of the nation.

Services provided for children of Hope School District I-a have been involved with reading remedial arithmetic, equipment, special education, counseling and testing, health, food, textbooks, clothing and others.

In the early years of ESEA Title I as much as fifteen percent (15%) of the budget was devoted to food services, but as other federal food programs have come into existence, Title I funds for food have been decreased, and more funds have been given to providing textbooks and other instructional materials.

Textbooks are on a loan basis, and are turned in to the bookstore at the end of the school year.

The school bookstore and the lunchroom program are self-supporting and receive no funds from the operating budget of the school district.

The latter two services have been of much help to the economically deprived children as well as the school.

Chicago 7 Got Jail Haircuts

CHICAGO (AP) — Six of the seven defendants in the recent Chicago riot trial have been given haircuts to conform with standards at Cook County Jail. Warden Winston E. Moore said their hair was clipped to "a reasonable length" for sanitary reasons Monday.

David T. Dellinger, at 54 the oldest of the group, is balding and conforms to jail standards, Moore said.

Dellinger; Renard C. "Rennie" Davis; 29; Thomas E. Hayden, 30; Abbott "Abbie" Hoffman, 31; and Jerry C. Rubin, 31, were convicted last week of crossing state lines with the intent to incite rioting at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

They were sentenced to five years in prison and fined $5,000 each, plus the cost of prosecution.

campaign to create a more favorable atmosphere for announcing later that more U.S. fighter-bombers will be sold to Israel.

One Cairo newspaper, Al Gumhuriya, described the outcry as "American-Israeli slapstick" designed to "divert attention from the crime that they committed against civilian workers at Abu Zaabal," a reference to the Israeli bombing Feb. 12 of a metal factory north of Cairo that killed 80 workers.

The semi-official newspaper Al Ahram said Israel "jumped at the chance" to exploit the "sad regrettable accident to the Swissair jetliner bound for Israel to smear the reputation and objectives of the Palestinian resistance."

The National Palestine Liberation Movement disassociated itself from the Swissair crash. In a statement issued Monday night in Geneva by the Arab League, the movement disavowed terrorism outside Israeli-held territory and said: "Only Israel and the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine profit from these acts."

An offshoot of the Front in Beirut claimed that its members set the explosion on the plane and another that made an emergency landing in Germany Saturday, but the Amman office denied it had anything to do with them.

Meanwhile, the leader of the Popular Front itself, Dr. George Habash, said his guerrilla organization will continue attacking planes of Israel's El Al Airline all over the world. But he also disclaimed any part in the Swissair crash, saying his group had injured no Europeans.

Seven European airlines temporarily halted shipments of freight or mail to Israel after the crash of the Swissair jet.

Besides keeping a close watch on airports, the Swiss government decided to stop issuing visas to visitors from Arab states except for humanitarian trips such as visits with ailing relatives and "where significant Swiss interests are at stake."

The Swiss also announced they will hold an international aviation security conference as soon as possible to discuss possible measures for better protection of civil aircraft.

Pryor Wants Inquiry Into Nursing Homes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., is asking Congress to undertake a nationwide inquiry into the nursing-home industry which now has more than 20,000 operating units.

Pryor said Monday at Washington that he has been collecting information for more than a year on what he calls "the commercialization of our aged."

Pryor said the nursing home industry in the United States was being infiltrated by "fast-buck entrepreneurs" interested only in profit.

"I have nothing against profit-making," he said, "but I am against exploitation. Profits are booming. Prices are rising and service is not improving."

"Through the various programs some $2 billion of tax funds is going into nursing homes every year," Pryor said. "Chains of nursing homes are being established. The organizers are people like contractors, automobile dealers, farmers, bankers, real estate men as well as doctors. Certainly some of them are in it for a quick profit. Stock in these establishments is doing very well on the securities market."

Pryor said he began ringing the doorbells of nursing homes in Washington and nearby Maryland and Virginia. "I simply said my name is David Pryor and I like to spend my spare time helping out with old folks," he said.

He said he visited 12 nursing homes and that he was never turned away.

"I found two where I would be willing to put my mother if she needed this kind of care," he said. "But I do not think I could afford either one on my $42,500 congressional salary."

He said the cost at the best homes ranged up to the $800-a-month level. At the other end of the scale was a home charging $150.

"It had one attendant for 80 people," he said.

"Have you ever tried to shave anybody," Pryor asked. "I kept being afraid I was hurting them. But then I asked at one place who shaved the old men regularly. They said the maintenance crew did. So I suppose I did about as well as somebody whose regular job is pushing a lawnmower."

Volunteer Dentists Are Shocked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Last summer Dr. Martin Rosenberg, a dentist, found he had some free time and wondered if the Negro community or the East Los Angeles barrio needed his talent.

He met with William Elkins, director of the 45 poverty program Teen Posts in Los Angeles County, and with the help of the American Jewish Committee came up with 75 volunteer dentists.

Since then more than 400 children, teen-agers and young adults from the black community and the Spanish-speaking barrio have been examined by Rosenberg and the other volunteers free of charge.

The dentists expressed shock at what they have found. "I went down to a Teen Post and examined 75 youngsters in one evening," Rosenberg recalled Monday. "I found only six who didn't need dental care."

He found one girl, who had 13 cavities, three missing teeth, gum problems, flaring teeth and problems in swallowing and

Cloudy skies with scattered light rain and drizzle were expected to continue over Arkansas through tonight.

A cold front will pass through the state Wednesday bringing colder and drier air, the Weather Bureau said.

Skies were expected to begin clearing Wednesday as the temperatures turn cooler and the winds shift from southerly to northerly, the bureau said.

Highs Monday ranged from 45 at Harrison to 60 at El Dorado. Overnight lows included 44 at Harrison, 45 at Fayetteville, Jonesboro, Pine Bluff and Little Rock, 46 at Memphis, 47 at El Dorado and 49 at Fort Smith and Texarkana.

Of the first 310 youngsters examined, Rosenberg said, only about 18 did not need treatment.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice of Proposed Compromise to Consumers of Certain Broad Spectrum Antibiotics

There are pending in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York ("the Court") a number of class actions (the "actions") against Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., American Cyanamid Company, Bristol-Myers Company, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Squibb Beech-Nut, Inc. and The Upjohn Company, alleging that those companies violated the antitrust laws in the sale of certain of their broad spectrum antibiotic products. It is further alleged that as a result purchasers of such products have paid prices higher than they otherwise would have paid. Early last year, the defendants, while denying liability, offered $100 million in settlement of all claims by three groups of purchasers, one group including individual consumers.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a hearing will be held before the Court beginning on March 24, 1970, at 10 o'clock in the morning in Room 110 of the United States Court House, Foley Square, New York, New York. The purpose of the hearing is to determine whether a proposed compromise and settlement of all the actions should be approved by the Court under Rule 23(e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. If so approved, all the settled actions will be dismissed on the merits as against all defendants with prejudice.

The terms of the proposed compromise and settlement are contained (1) in a proposal of the defendants (dated February 6, 1969, as modified May 9, 1969), (2) in a "Proposed Plan of Allocation" filed by the State of Alabama and many other states (the "Alabama Plan") submitted to the Court in chambers and to defendants in August 1969, and filed with the Clerk certain pages having been substituted on January 20, 1970, (3) in an "Excess Agreement" approved by order of the Court (dated October 20, 1969), (4) in a document entitled "Plan of Allocation" filed on October 20, 1969, and (5) in an "Addendum" filed on January 20, 1970, to the "Excess Agreement" just described. "The point is that no matter who occupies the governor's chair, these same problems—only worse—will be resting on his desk and will have to be faced," Rockefeller said.

The governor had said previously that he might run for a third term if the legislature rejected his program.

"I will not waiver from my goal of doing all in my power to move our state forward," Rockefeller said.

"The problems Arkansas faces are not partisan or political problems—they are people problems," he said. "We are not in a contest of 'Me Versus Them,' or 'The Governor Versus the Legislature.' Rather, it is a matter of whether all of us, you the citizens, and the members of the General Assembly, recognize the responsibility that each has to do something about the future of our state."

Rockefeller said the state's needs are not limited to continued or better services. He said some state buildings "are so ancient they are literally falling apart or are so over-crowded they cannot function with efficiency."

Labor Not Happy With Nixon Plan

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — President Nixon has given labor leaders little encouragement in their demands that he ease up on anti-inflation policies which they say are hurting workers, consumers and the efforts of Negroes to better their lot.

"The workingman must know the dollar he earns is not being secretly eaten away by inflation even as he earns it," Nixon said Monday in a message to AFL-CIO leaders.

"The result of these few attempts to slow down the economy is higher unemployment," retorted a report of the 13.6 million member labor federation's executive council. And, it added, the hardest hit are hard-core unemployed Negroes and other minority group workers.

George Meany, 75-year-old president of the AFL-CIO, and other leaders talked pointedly, if politely, with Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz about their mounting differences with the White House.

All they got at the windup session of the council's winter meeting was Nixon's message urging their cooperation, and Shultz's oral assurance the President would take strong measures if his economic policies spur any big jobless rise.

"We don't think there is going to be any steep rise, any general rise, in unemployment at all," Shultz said.

Nixon's written message—included without mention by either Shultz or the labor leaders in a sheaf of news releases handed to reporters—asked AFL-CIO cooperation in fighting inflation and providing training and jobs for all Americans.

Quoting Abraham Lincoln, Nixon said labor is the source of most human needs and comforts.

"The central social and economic questions of our time are: Can we as a free people make that source available to those who have been denied its use and can we maintain a stable economy that will enable all workers to purchase those comforts and necessities without the cruel, hidden tax of inflation," Nixon said.

"This administration says we must, and we can. It is as immoral to stop a man from getting a job for which he is qualified as it is to allow a worker to be robbed of his money by inflation."

Says Criticism of Pill Caused Public Panic

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A

woman birth control specialist told a Senate subcommittee today that its hearings into the safety of the pill had created international panic and prompted a wave of unwanted pregnancies.

Dr. Elizabeth B. Connell of Columbia University said a stepup in pregnancies "strikes profound fear in the hearts of those who deal daily with women and population problems."

She also criticized some of the conclusions reached by witnesses at hearings last month by the Senate monopoly subcommittee. Testimony then linked the pill to scores of suspected side effects, including cancer, fetal blood clotting, diabetes and heart trouble.

"From a purely scientific point of view, much of the information displayed thus far can be likened to the relationship between a drunken man and a lightpost—more for support than for illumination," she said.

Dr. Connell, a mother of six and the first woman to testify at the hearings, said even the most violent of critics of the pill had to concede his data was limited and that many of his conclusions were based on unsupported speculation.

She commented in testimony prepared for delivery before the panel headed by Democrat Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin.

The subcommittee is resuming for two days hearings on the pill. Dr. Connell was invited to testify at the insistence of Republican members of the subcommittee. Some of the GOP members have said the hearings and others in a three-year probe by Nelson of drug industry pricing and practices have been biased against the industry.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

Dear Helen: I have bruises on my arms where Sam hits me when he gets mad. He walks all over me, stands me up, puts me down, lies more than he tells the truth, breaks promises, and I'm sure he's cheated on me too.

Many times I've sat home Saturday nights while he's "out with the guys." If he doesn't get his way, he throws a temper fit; but then he can be so sweet I forget all these things—until the next time.

I've done everything possible to make it work, from being extra nice, to making him jealous. I've invested a year of my life and I still love him, enough so we've broken up seven times and gone back together after his abject apologies. What can I do?

— PERSONAL FOOL

Dear Fool: Shoot for Number Eight and don't weaken! It's better to waste a year on a bad investment than a lifetime on regrets.—H.

Dear Helen: This is to "Last Chance" who wonders about getting try.

Dr. Connell, associate professor of obstetrics and gynecology at Columbia and director of research and development for the International Institute for the Study of Human Reproduction, said:

"We are just beginning to see the first of the pregnancies of women who panicked in January, stopped their pills, and did not seek or use another means of birth control.

"These women will not be here to testify," she went on, "but they now bear within their bodies mute testimony to the effectiveness of induced fear."

Adding that it was "axiomatic" that illegal abortions also will increase, Dr. Connell said her conclusion that panic had been caused was based on statistics from planned parenthood clinics.

Dr. Connell said the panic she says she has detected may be catastrophic abroad "where the poverty, maternal deaths from abortion and all the consequences of the population explosion are most critical."

Dr. Connell characterized some of the previous testimony on the pill as not only untrue but in some cases "potentially ridiculous."

ling to the prom with a guy she doesn't like. For a few years I dated a "Delbert" mainly because we both needed a partner for certain affairs. The payoff came when he introduced me to the man who is now my fiancé. I'd never have met this wonderful fellow had I stayed home.—HAPPY

Dear Helen: Once more please — the name of the organization where we can get pen pals?—YOUNG TEENS

Dear Teens: Please, PLEASE clip this and pin it to your bulletin boards. You may get overseas pen pals by sending 35 cents, with your name, address, age and country preference to WORLD PEN PALS, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.—H.

Dear Helen: Last summer we four sisters and my big brother picked pickling cucumbers to make extra money. My brother was sort of boss. We worked harder than he did and finished before schedule. Got paid minimum wages.

Yesterday my brother got a bonus check for $100 in the mail. The pickle people appreciated our work, as they made top prices, being first with the best.

But he won't divide with us. Says he was the "contractor" and "manager," so deserves the bonus. Is this fair?—POOPED PICKLE PICKERS

Dear P.P.P.: Not A good contractor-manager shares the wealth, just as the pickle people did. Tell him you'll be independent pickle pickers next year if he doesn't pop the proceeds in your piggy bank.—pronto!—H.

I'm scared to death that I got syphilis from kissing a boy. I read you could... My parents never told me anything, but I think I have symptoms. AFRAID TO ASK

Dear Helen: I got V.D. twice, two months apart. I know I have it because I was a bad person and gave in those two times. I didn't have any money for an examination and I could never talk to my Mom, so I just waited a year, and now I think about it dying.—TOO LATE?

Dear ALL of you whose Frantic Letters prove how little young people really know about venerable diseases: you may not have anything to worry about but don't take chances! Your County Venereal Disease Clinic offers free examinations and treatment, and more and more states are joining California, which requires no parental consent if the patient is 12 or over. No one need ever know—and you CAN be cured! Look in the phone book under County Office listings, or ask the operator.—H.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A

spooky, gothic-type TV film feature—a rarity these days—was shown Monday night on one of NBC's "World Premiere" films.

In spite of a psychiatrist for a hero, contemporary decor, mini skirts, a recovered drug addict and assorted hippies floating around, the film "Ritual of Evil," was an old-fashioned chiller. It was also a long and silly bore.

The story centered around the psychiatrist who believed in witchcraft and evil spirits played earnestly by Louis Jourdan. Herold Dr. Sorrell apparently had only one patient because he hung around the estate of a young heiress most of the time.

The bewitched characters were the teen-age heiress, her aunt who was an alcoholic and the aunt's predatory lover who had an eye on the family fortune. From time to time we saw a satyr-like statue with eyes that suddenly glowed red. Thereupon somebody either went into a trance and had terrible visions or wound up dead.

There were a number of visions and plenty of corpses before it was over, and the witch in back of all this was a blonde who pretended to be a photographer.

Spells were cast by chanting magic words. There were dark and shivery references to black masses and human sacrifice. But when it was over, there were still a lot of loose ends.

Why was the witch bugging all the people? What was under the saddle that made the gentle horse throw the heiress? Why was the gardener always peering mysteriously through the bushes and looking evil? Why did NBC broadcast such a ridiculous, poorly constructed feature?

The network for the past few seasons has had pretty good luck with the "World Premiere" shows. While the scripts rarely have been better than class B, production, performances and photography have often been arresting and exciting.

Beatie Ringo Starr, bearded and long-haired, was the guest on "Laugh-In" Monday night. Since he had little to do that was remotely amusing, and seemed to have little talent for comedy, it could easily have been almost any other bearded, long-haired young fellow. He did, however, manage to slip in a number of plugs for his movie.

"Laugh-In" now is operating in a weary mode. The performers seem to have lost some of the brash bounce and vitality they had when the series was fresher.

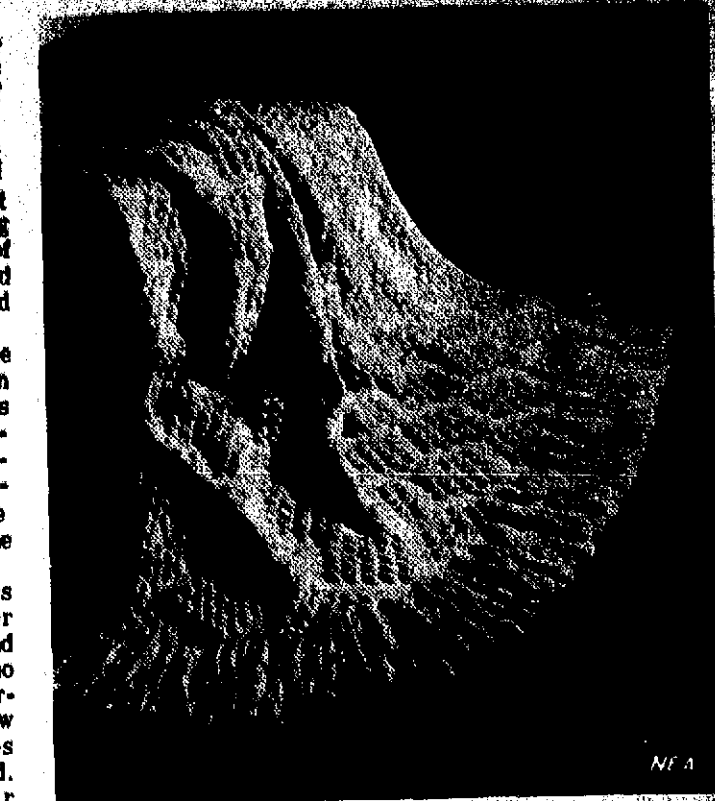

The producers must feel that the series needs a lift or they would never have arranged the forthcoming marriage between Gladys Ormishby, the reticulate swinging spinster, and the dirty old man—with Tiny Tim involved in the proceedings.

Learn to take care of your woolens to keep them in shape. Always hang garments up immediately after wearing. Wool fibers are elastic and light wrinkles will usually "stretch out" overnight. You can quickly steam away more firmly set wrinkles from packing or wearing by hanging the garments in the bathroom while you father up in a hot shower.

Diamond-patterned afghan is an attractive investment for knitters. Knit its richly textured design on circular needles, working in rows throughout.

By JUDY LOVE

What do you treasure most of all from the patterns you've knitted? There's a great chance your answer will be an afghan. The warmth afghans give and the compliments they bring are worth their weight in gold—or perhaps diamonds.

Here's a picot diamond afghan just brimming with knit-in richness. It's a textured treasure done in a soft, single color of Coats and Clark's Red Heart knitting worsted. You knit it on 29-inch circular needles to accommodate the large number of stitches needed to work in rows throughout. The finished cover measures 49 by 59 inches to which you add lengths of fringe.

Complete knitting instructions for the diamond-patterned afghan are available for 50 cents from Stitchin' Time, c/o your local newspaper, P.O. Box 543, Radio City Station, New York City, N.Y. Ask for leaflet S188, and include your name, address and zip code.

Quick Action Needed
Spots on clothing should be treated as soon as possible. Immediate action when something is spilled is to blot up the moisture. Often a cloth or sponge wrung from tepid sudsy water will prevent damage. Never rub wool. Consult a stain chart for removing different types of stains.

Helps Retain Shape
Use properly shaped knickers for maintaining shoulder lines in woollen fabrics. Pants should be hung up by the cuffs, skirts by the waistband. It is wise to close all buttons, zippers, snaps and hooks. This helps retain shape and there's less need for pressing.

Hope star SPORTS Texarkana Comes Here Tonight

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Editor

All good things must come to an end. For the Hope Bobcats, the home schedule comes to an end tonight against the Arkansas High Schoolers of Texarkana, with a "B" game starting at 8:30 p.m.

With an 11-13 record after big wins over Mesa 68-50 and Ouachita 57-77 last week, the Cats hope to be in high gear before the District Tournament for 4-AA comes around starting next Tuesday at Southern State College in Magnolia.

Senior forward Larry Muldrow, out since last Wednesday with a groin injury, will not see action again tonight, leaving a non-senior lineup once again to grace the Jones Field House floor.

John Dodley, who used his 6-6 height for 23 points against Ouachita last Saturday, is recovered from a bothersome knee and at full speed. He will jump center, and will have under the basket most probably from Lynn Norton, another sophomore who has started two straight games and averaged 11.5 in the two.

Outside, a third sophomore in David Briggs is in a good shooting period with 27 points last week to work his average up closer to 10 points per game. Then come the three juniors for the other two starting spots, including Charles Frazier, Parker Powell, and Ronnie Massanelli.

Frazier had his best game in the Ouachita win, canning 23 points after a 15-point first half. Also, his defensive play improved, as had been hoped for by Coach John Ross. Powell and Massanelli continue to give fine defensive showings, and Parker maintains about an 8.0 per game average in the scorebook.

In the opening game, the Hope "B" Bruins beat another team on top of the 10-4 mark already under their belts against the Razorbacks tonight at 6:30 p.m.

This will be the last chance of the season for home fans to see the Bobcats here at Jones Field House, and Hope has kept a decent home record of 7-4 this season. And Texarkana, already victims before such as Magnolia and Camden, should get another taste of 4-AA power this evening (Tuesday).

Laver May Not Be in the U.S. Open

DALLAS (AP) — Unless two professional tennis organizations settle their differences with the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association, defending champion Rod Laver may not be in the field for the U.S. Open in September at Forest Hills.

Directors of World Championship Tennis, headquartered in Dallas, and the Los Angeles-based National Tennis League issued a joint statement Monday. It said:

"We will be happy to meet with tournament officials independently, but we want it clear now that we have no further commitments for American players including the U.S. Open at Forest Hills."

Mike Davies, executive director of World Championship Tennis and George MacCall, head of the National Tennis League, said the discussions with the USLTA had been discontinued.

Searcy Still Rated Best in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unbeaten Searcy continued its merry way while the rest of the state's highly regarded high school basketball teams play musical chairs.

Searcy, winner of 28 straight, was named first on 10 of the 11 ballots cast by the panel of Arkansas sportswriters and sportscasters. High-flying Little Rock Horace Mann, winner of its last six, got the other first-place vote and jumped from eighth to fifth.

Fort Smith Northside finished second in the balloting. The Grizzlies were ranked third last week.

Following Northside are Fort Smith Southside, Jonesboro Westside, Mann, Little Rock Central, Little Rock McClellan, Camden Lincoln, Pine Bluff and Malvern in that order.

Central was ranked second last week, but was upset 57-56 by Little Rock Hall. Southside and Westside were ranked fourth and fifth respectively last week.

McClellan won twice last week and advanced from ninth to seventh. Camden Lincoln, ranked seventh last week, dropped a notch after being upset by Camden. Pine Bluff was ranked sixth last week but lost to Mann and Northside.

Judsonia, ranked 10th last week, was beaten Monday in the first round of the Class B state tournament. Malvern replaced Judsonia in the No. 10 slot.

Here are the results of The Associated Press high school basketball poll with first-place votes and team records in parentheses and total points at right:

1. Searcy (10) (28-0) 106
2. FS Northside (15-3) 97

Pyatt Knocked Out in B Tourney Play

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pyatt, which reached the finals of the Class B state tournament last year, didn't survive the first round of the 1970 tournament.

Pyatt went scoreless during the first 4½ minutes of the fourth quarter Monday night and dropped a 58-41 decision to Plumerville in Little Rock's Barton Coliseum.

Desha Central, the defending champion, blasted Maynard 66-43 Monday. In other first-round action, Terrell beat Judsonia 63-54, Fountain Lake crushed Cedarville 86-45, Stephens Carver dumped Genoa Central 89-80, Parkin defeated Sparkman 65-58, Paragould Oak Grove edged County Line 48-47 and Howard County slipped past Calico Rock 76-67.

Eight more first-round games will be played today at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.

The second-round games begin Wednesday.

Today's schedule: Mammoth Spring vs. Dover, 9:30 a.m.; Stamps Ellis vs. Portland, 11 a.m.; Welner vs. Umpire, 1 p.m.; Biggers-Reyno vs. Prattville, 2:30 p.m.; Greenbrier vs. Hayana, 4 p.m.; St. Charles vs. Stephens Central, 6:30 p.m.; Marmaduke vs. Lead Hill, 8 p.m.; and Noutainburg vs. Pleasant Plains, 9:30 p.m.

Tommy McKnight, a sophomore, paced Plumerville Monday night with 18 points and Charles Gilmore added 14. Pyatt's Tom Melton tossed in 21 points.

Desha Central, led by Lee Givens and 6-foot-8 Major Jones, had little trouble with Maynard. Givens scored 23 points. Jones scored 19 points, grabbed 16 rebounds and blocked 14 shots.

Judsonia, 35-0 during the season, led Turrell 32-30 at the half. However, Turrell outscored Judsonia 18-9 in the final period. Johnny Horton scored 21 for Turrell and Fred Hubach led Judsonia with 18.

Larry Elmore sank two free throws with six seconds left to give Paragould Oak Grove its victory. Kendall Hurt led the winners with 21 points and Elmore contributed 12. Jerry Vest scored 21 for County Line.

Calico Rock trailed Howard County 30-24 at the half and stayed close until the winners went into their delay game in the final minutes. Jim Hopkins

Kentucky Takes Over From UCLA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kentucky is back atop the college basketball heap for the first time in eight weeks, which is just fine with Adolph Rupp, until the next four weeks go by.

"Naturally, we're delighted to be there," the Baron said Monday night after his Wildcats disposed UCLA by a whisker as the nation's No. 1 team in the weekly Associated Press poll. "We just hope we're up there when March 20 comes along."

Rupp's target date happens to be the night of the NCAA championship game, which could pit the Wildcats against the defending champion Bruins.

UCLA's stunning 78-65 loss to Oregon last Saturday night, which snapped the Bruins' unbeaten streak at 25 games several hours after Kentucky out-gunned Louisiana State and Pistol Pete Maravich 121-105, helped put the 'Cats on top for the first time since Dec. 29.

Kentucky received 14 first-place votes, to 11 for UCLA, and outpointed the Bruins 534-532 in the weekly ballot of a panel of 29 sportswriters and sportscasters. The Wildcats, who won twice last week, and the Bruins each took 21-1 records into this week's play.

St. Bonaventure, 19-1 through last weekend's games, remained in third place, followed by South Carolina, New Mexico State, Jacksonville, Pennsylvania, Marquette, Iowa and Florida State, in that order. South Carolina received three first-place ballots and Jacksonville got the other.

Kentucky was No. 1 until the poll of Jan. 5, when UCLA moved up following a 108-77 romp over high-ranked Notre Dame. The Wildcats had nipped the Irish 102-100 six days earlier. UCLA held the top spot until Monday, tightening its grip after Kentucky was upset by Vanderbilt 89-81 on Jan. 31.

Until they bowed at Eugene, Ore., the Bruins were the only unbeaten major power.

Except for the flip-flop at the top, the order of the first seven teams was the same as last week. Florida State, beaten 85-81 by Jacksonville, dropped from the No. 8 spot to 10th, Marquette and Iowa moved up from 10th and 11th, respectively, and Davidson dipped from No. 9 to No. 11.

Completing the Second Ten, in order, are Western Kentucky, Notre Dame, North Carolina State, Houston, Drake, Kansas State, Columbia, North Carolina and Utah State.

The Top Twenty, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points awarded for first 15 places, based on 20-18-16-14-12-10-8 etc.:

3. St. Bonaventure 420

Unseld Breaks Deadlock With Hayes

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore's Wes Unseld broke a deadlock with Elvin Hayes of San Diego in the National Basketball Association's individual rebounding race last weekend as the Bulls broke a year-long hex against the New York Knickerbockers.

The Bulls, beaten nine straight times by New York, snapped the string with a 110-104 verdict over the Knicks last Sunday, Unseld pulling in 19 rebounds in the process. It was Baltimore's first victory over the Eastern Division leaders since March 12, 1969.

Unseld, who had grabbed 26 rebounds against Detroit Friday night, finished the week with a per-game average of 16.1, one tenth of a point higher than Hayes. The two second-year pros had been tied for the lead for two consecutive weeks.

Jerry West of Los Angeles remained atop the scoring parade with a 31.1 point average, according to official NBA figures released today.

Bendaville Heads Field at Oaklawn

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Bendaville, trained by Doug Davis Jr., heads a full field of 3 and 4-year-olds in today's $4,800 feature race at Oaklawn Park.

Davis, the leading trainer at Oaklawn in 1969, has saddled 11 winners at the current meeting winners at the current meeting.

Eighteen horses have been nominated for today's 5½ furlong event.

Topweighted at 121 pounds each are Hallelujah, Pike Prince and Sovereign Mann.

Larry Snyder, the leading rider in the nation in 1969, booted home three winners Monday, including Lil's Bag in the $7,500 feature race Snyder also scored on Fan My Flow in the second and Star Collum in the fifth.

Lil's Bag, owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Roberts of Shreveport, La., led from wire to wire and scored by four lengths over Joni's Music.

Lil's Bag, a 4-year-old filly with career earnings of more than $92,000, covered the 5½ furlongs in 1:05 3/5 on a good track. The second betting choice, Lil's Bag paid $6.40, $4.00 and $2.80. Joni's Music, who won her first 1970 outing a week ago, paid $5.00 and $2.60. Miss Suzaki, the favorite, returned $2.60 to show.

Jackey Burl McBride scored a winning double, riding Ashoka in the first and Mr. Albert in eighth. Ashoka and Fan My Flow combined for a $177.00 daily double.

A record Monday crowd of 10,281 wagered $67,138.

FORM CHARTS

Boston, AL East

Kasko

PROSPECTUS — Red Sox finally have some pitching depth, long a problem with them, and internal squabbles presumably have been soothed. New manager Eddie Kasko is starting out with a stronger team than Dick Williams did when he won the flag in '67. If everybody stays happy, Red Sox will win it all with room to spare. So deep are they everywhere.

Vastrzinski

PITCHING — Jim Lonborg, never quite Jim Lonborg since a shing accident, will try it again as No. 1 starter. Forget the 7-11 of last year, they say in Boston. Ray Culp, 17-game winner last year, is No. 2. Then there are Sparky Lyle (8-3), Mike Nagy (12-2) and Jose Santiago, a hero in '67 but a sore-armed problem since then. Gary Peters was acquired from White Sox, where he was 10-15 last year, and Sonny Siebert (14-10 in bullpen and out) could be starters, too. Same for Ken Brett, fast lefty who's had much grooming. Bullpen looks solid with Lee Stange, Vicente Romo and Gary Wagner, the ex-Phil. Rating—A—.

CATCHING — Jerry Moses, who hit .304 last year, will start, but figures to get a run from Don Pavletich, acquired from White Sox. Vet Russ Gibson is still around and so is Tom Seaton. Rating—B—.

INFIELD — George Scott is back at first, but if he falls off as it sometimes does, Pavletich waits in the wings. Mike Andrews is at second, Rico Petrocelli at short. Petrocelli had best season ever last year, leading club in home runs. Third might go to Rookie Luis Alvarado, who hit .292 and was MVP of International League last season. Red Sox are high on him. If he doesn't make it, journeyman Dick Schofield or Tom Matchick will move in. Rating—B+.

OUTFIELD — Potentially, best in AL. Carl Yastrzemski's back in left, Reggie Smith in center, Tony Conigliaro in right. All have power and speed, and, to be sure, questionable temperaments. If Kasko can keep them happy, he'll be set. Billy Conigliaro is ready after a .298 year in Louisville and will spell his brother. Joe Lohoud also around. Rating—A—.

TOP ROOKIES — Young Conigliaro, upset over being sent to Triple-A last season, proved his point with fine season. He'd probably be a starter elsewhere. Alvarado is only other rookie with chance of sticking.

Texas, Penn State Will Meet in 1970

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The football teams of Texas and Penn State, which never got around to meeting each other last season, won't do battle during the 1970 regular season either.

Both schools have turned thumbs down on increasing their 1970 schedules from 10 to 11 games as permitted by legislation passed at the convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association last month in Washington, D.C.

But at least 13 additional games have been added, an Associated Press survey shows, and more may be in the works.

All 13 new games are scheduled for Sept. 12, highlighted by a night game between Southern California and Alabama at Birmingham. The scene shifts to Los Angeles in 1971.

Also scheduled, with the home team listed last, are Duke-Florida, Kentucky-North Carolina, South Carolina-Georgia Tech, Holy Cross-Army, Colgate Navy, Washington State-Kansas, Virginia-Virginia Tech, Utah State-Kansas State, Chattanooga-Vanderbilt, Texas at Arlington-Texas Christian, and North Carolina State-Richmond.

"Since then we have appraised our situation at Penn State and have decided to continue our traditional 10-game format, at least for the present time," said Edward Czekaj, Penn State's athletic director.

Ohio State and the eight Ivy League schools still play nine-game schedules and have shown no inclination to add another. The main selling point behind an 11th game was that it would help to defray the skyrocketing costs of college athletics.

The Big Ten will consider an 11th game at a league meeting early next month, but under a 60-day delay policy on substantive changes any approval will not take effect until May. A recent straw vote of athletic directors and faculty representatives of eight schools came out 9-7 in favor of an extra game.

Beyond 1970, Duke and Florida have signed for 1971 and 1973, Arkansas and Southern Cal will meet in 1972 and 1973 and Utah State and Kansas State have signed up for 1971, as well as 1970.

Rice Could Take It All at Lubbock

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Both Bob Bass of Texas Tech and Gene Knodel of Rice agree that the guards hold the key to tonight's crucial Southwest Conference battle in Lubbock in which the Owls attempt to nail down at least a tie for the title.

"We've got to slow down (Gary) Reist and (Tom) Myer," Bass said. "Their guards have been getting 45 to 50 points per game. Those boys have the green light to shoot it and they do a pretty good job of it."

Rice coach Don Knodel said, "The key to our game is to slow down both (Greg) Lowery and (Gene) Knolle. I realize Knolle is a forward but he might as well be listed as a guard the way he can drive for that basket."

The Owls are 9-2—two lengths ahead of Texas Tech and Texas A&M, both 7-4.

The Aggies entertain Arkansas tonight.

Rice has two games remaining after the Tech battle. The Owls host Texas Christian Saturday night and travel to College Station to collide with Texas A&M next Tuesday night.

Knodel said he had no "master plan" for the remaining three games.

"We're just going to continue the things we have been doing," he said. "Any changes just might confuse everybody. We're doing a decent job. I would like for us to be more consistent. It's certainly our turn to win. It's been a long time and we need to excite our fans."

Rice hasn't won a SWC title in 16 years.

In other game tonight, Baylor is at Texas and Southern Methodist is at Texas Christian.

Some 9,000 fans are expected to be on hand in Lubbock.

Knodel said "It's a nice place to play a basketball game. They have a good facility. There are worse places to play. Our boys just can't let the crowd bug 'em. If they do, we're going to have problems."

Named to Receive Hockey Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Shore has joined a select group of winners of the Lester Patrick Memorial Trophy.

The former outstanding Boston Bruins' defenseman was named to receive the trophy for 1970 Monday. It is awarded annually for outstanding service to hockey in the United States.

Shore, who played for the Bruins for 13 years starting in 1927, will be presented with the award at a dinner in New York on Monday, March 9.

Bulls Happy to Be Away From Home

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Chicago Bulls have departed their home-away-from-home in the 1970 pro basketball season in a much happier frame of mind than they started.

The Bulls edged the San Diego Rockets 127-125 here Monday night in the only professional game scheduled.

It was Chicago's last of eight appearances in Municipal Auditorium this season, and gave them an even split in their games here.

"It was nice to wind up here like that," Coach Dick Motta said. "We didn't have a very pleasant debut here."

The Bulls lost to Detroit and Baltimore in their first two tests here and Motta said at the time that playing in Kansas City was just like playing eight more games on the road for the Bulls.

"I guess we sort of got used to it being our second home," he said Monday after the Bulls had taken their fourth victory in their last six games here.

The triumph enabled the Bulls to slip into third place in the National Basketball Association's Western Division a half-game ahead of the Phoenix Suns.

Shaler Hallmon led a late Chicago charge that pulled it out after San Diego led 99-95 early in the fourth quarter. Hallmon scored nine of his 19 points in the final five minutes as the Bulls were pulling away from a 110-110 tie.

Bob Love topped the Bulls with 28 points, while Jim Barnett and Stu Lantz each got 32 for the Rockets.

No NCAA Bid for Rice Since 1942

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Rice hasn't been to the NCAA basketball playoffs since 1942, but the Owls will more than likely get to go if they are in a three-way tie with Texas A&M and Texas Tech for the Southwest Conference title.

Rice is sailing along with a 9-2 record in SWC play while A&M and Tech are 7-4.

Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the SWC, said "If the NCAA says we have to play in the first round then the team that hasn't participated in the playoffs recently would go—if we have a three way tie."

Texas A&M was the 1969 SWC champion and Texas Tech went to the playoffs in 1961.

A first round NCAA playoff is set for Fort Worth March 7.

On Wednesday February 18th, the pages of literature and history were miraculously reopened by the seventh grade English classes of Yerger Junior High, under the direction of Miss Ruth Atkins, English teacher.

There were sixty-five students participating in this production, each well-groomed as the character they were depicting, and giving a brief account of the person they were portraying. The program gave the students and visitors a flash-back into the years from whence came much of our culture, refinement, laws, and many of our social customs. It was entertainment as well as a recollection of the beginnings of our great country, so vital for our young people today.

The guests were welcomed by Glenda Williams, who also introduced the program.

team that drew the bye to see who represents the conference." He said there would be a "one game playoff on a neutral site if a two-way tie develops."

PERSONAL FINANCE
By CARLTON SMITH and RICHARD PUTNAM PRATT
Whether you are buying a new house or remodeling the old one, you ought to be aware of one pitfall seldom mentioned in magazines and books about building. It's called "obsolescence."
2-25-4f

Chances are you think you understand the term already. Obsolescence is what happens to a 1970 Ford, for example, when the '71 models appear. But obsolescence in houses is a special thing and hard to define.
2-25-4f

Appraisers use the term to apply to some element that is found undesirable, and age has nothing to do with it.
2-25-4f

Even a brand-new house can suffer from obsolescence in the eyes of an appraiser.
2-25-4f

Probably the quality is best described as something about the building that added to its cost but detracts from its value because it turns most buyers off.
2-25-4f

The easiest way to visualize obsolescence is to run through a few examples cited by a professional appraiser in an article written for a magazine circulated among mortgage lenders:
2-25-4f

Window Moderne—This little item was a bay window installed in a brick-and-stone, three-bedroom house built on a 50-foot lot. The appraiser didn't object to the idea of a bay window, but he did object to this treatment.
2-25-4f

It was made up of 75 separate 4x6-inch panes of glass. Not only is such a window expensive to install but washing, painting and replacing 75 panes where there could have been five would discourage many buyers, thus driving down the price.
2-25-4f

Instant Bedroom—Here an overage home improver took too literally the maxim that adding another bedroom adds value. He raised one end of the roof on his three-bedroom home and added a fourth.
2-25-4f

Unfortunately, he had to remove the closets from two original bedrooms to provide space for a passageway into the new one. Also, the awkwardness of the raised roof turned the house into an esthetic eyesore.

Pressure on Nerve Cuts Its Blood Supply
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Q—What causes an arm or leg to go to sleep? What is the best way to get over the prickly sensation?
A—Pressure on a sensory nerve temporarily deprives it of its blood supply. When the pressure is relieved, engorgement of the affected nerves and muscles increases their irritability and causes the "pins and needles" sensation. If you keep the affected part inactive for a couple of minutes, the circulation will be reestablished painlessly. For prevention, avoid prolonged sitting with your legs crossed or with your arm over the back of a chair.
Q—I have had numbness and tingling in my left foot continuously for several months. What could cause this?
A—This may be caused by anemia, impaired circulation, neuritis, multiple sclerosis or a nerve injury. The treatment would depend on the cause.
Q—What is meant by peripheral neuropathy, insufficient peripheral circulation and chronic endocervicitis? Would these keep me from being able to work? Can they be cured?
A—Peripheral neuropathy is a blanket term that encompasses many diseases that involve the nerves beyond the spinal cord. They may be caused by poisons, dietary deficiencies, infections, hardening of the arteries or hereditary disease. If your neuropathy is associated with poor circulation in your limbs, it is probably due to hardening of your arteries.
Q—Endocervicitis is an inflammation of the inner lining of the uterine cervix. How disabling this combination of diseases would be would depend on their severity. Much can be done to relieve the symptoms and prevent further progress but complete cure is unlikely.
Q—What is a muscular neuropathy? Can it be cured?
A—A neuropathy that affects the motor, rather than the sensory nerves, would be a muscular neuropathy. This is a general term that includes a dozen or more different diseases many of which can be cured.
Q—How effective is honey and vinegar for arthritis?
A—A little less effective than self-hypnosis.

Egyptian Calendar

The Egyptians adopted the first calendar based on the solar year in 4246 B.C. A 12-month calendar with 30 days in each month, the calendar totaled 360 days for the year. To make it come out even with the sun, they added five days at the end of the year—six days every fourth year—but these were not a part of any months. Instead, the extra days were used as feast days in honor of their gods.

Fur Showed Status

In medieval Europe, a man's social importance could be gauged by the amount and nature of the fur he wore, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Students of Beryl Henry Elementary School presented a Science Exhibit at the meeting of their PTA recently.

More than 125 parents registered for the event which was followed by a talk by Supt. James H. Jones. The PTA went on record in support of the proposed millage increase. Mrs. Mel Thrash, vice president, was in charge of the meeting.

Students in grades one through six participated in this exhibit under the supervision of Jim Knighton, science teacher. Some of the students had worked on their projects since Christmas.

There were many different exhibits, such as rock collections, an electric-powered model car engine, solar systems, volcanoes, a soil profile, models of organs of the body including a heart, a lung, an eye, and the respiratory system. Also included were posters with slogans on keeping your body healthy and strong.

A sample of the projects by grades includes: Ceramics of Farm animals by Special Education Class; Homemade Flashlight, Donna Free, 1st grade; Wood Samples, Debbie Stone, 2nd grade; Egg Study, Jerrie Dillard, 3rd grade.

Paper-mache Dinosaur, Ann Thrash, Experiment with Magnets, Wes Young, and Dinosaurs and trees, drawn labeled and used as wall decorations by entire 4th grade.

Lakers to See If Wilt Can Play Tonight

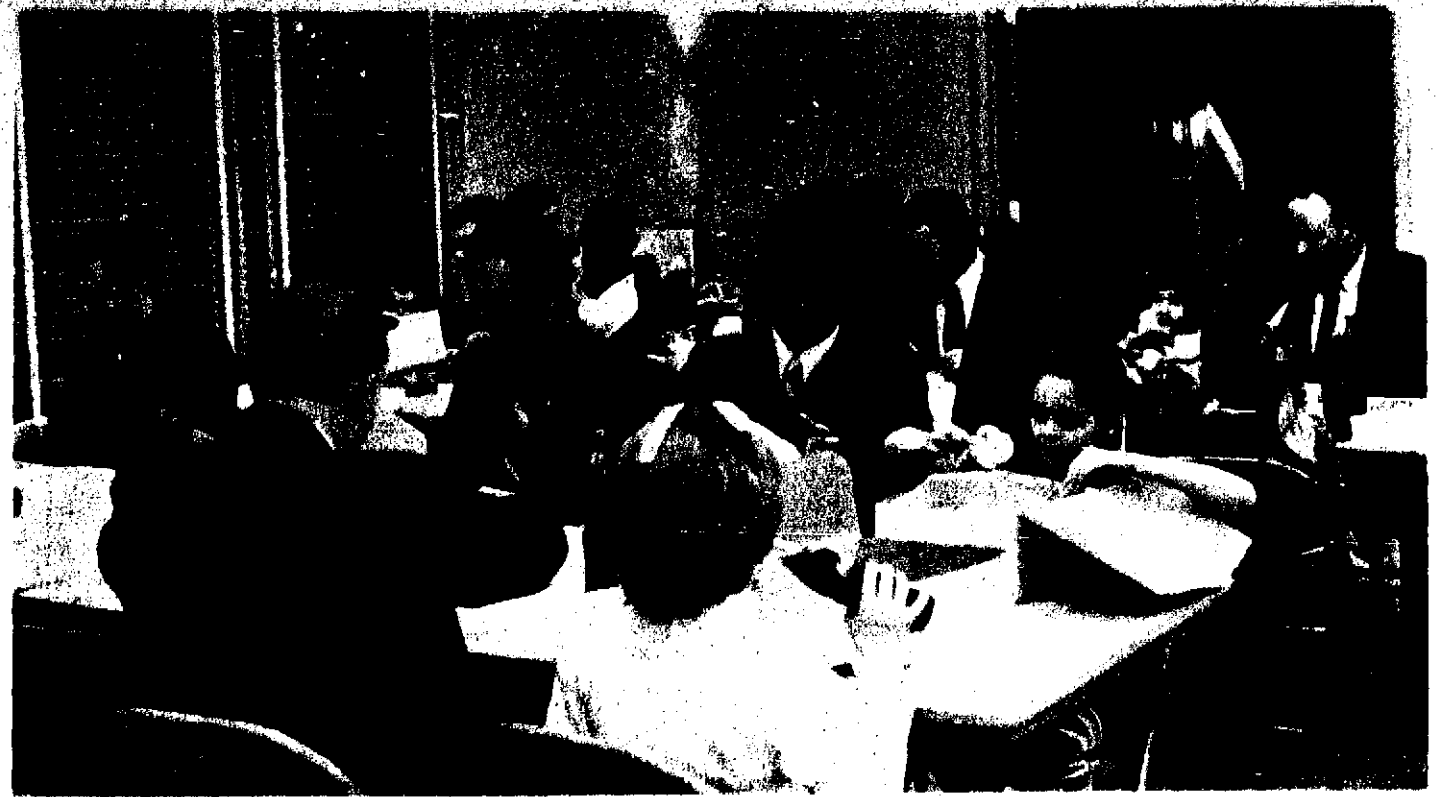

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers plan to decide tonight whether Wilt Chamberlain will sit out the rest of the season or rejoin the club for the playoffs.

The 7-foot-1 center has been sidelined since Nov. 7 when he severed a tendon in his kneecap in a game against Phoenix. He underwent surgery the next day and in recent weeks has been working out on his own, lifting weights and playing volleyball.

General Manager Fred Schaus said he will discuss Wilt's possible return with Lakers owner Jack Kent Cooke and Dr. Robert Kerlan and Frank Jobe before tonight's game against the visiting Atlanta Hawks, who are two games ahead of second-place Los Angeles in the Western Division.

Kerlan, who performed the surgery, said: "I'll present the medical facts at the meeting and they will be evaluated. If a decision is reached, we will all be behind it."

U.S. Trying to Welcome French Head

By ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has stepped up its welcome for President Georges Pompidou of France, trying to counter possible strains of new friendship between the two nations from demonstrations here against French Middle East policy.

Pompidou, who arrived with his wife for an eight-day visit in the United States Monday, will be formally received by President Nixon today. After private meetings, the two heads of state will attend a white-tie dinner at the White House in Pompidou's honor.

In a last-minute switch of plans, Nixon dispatched Vice President Spiro T. Agnew to greet Pompidou at Andrews Air Force Base, Md. Meanwhile, demonstrators wearing buttons that declared "Long Live France; Down with Pompidou" inveighed against what speakers at a Jewish-sponsored Washington rally described as a pro-Arab French policy in the Middle East.

Specifically, the speakers complained of the French sale of jet fighters to Libya while refusing to deliver 50 aircraft already paid for by Israel.

The possibility of continued demonstrations, coupled with his expected snubbing by mayors of New York and Chicago later in his visit and a partial boycott of his address to a joint session of Congress Wednesday worries U.S. diplomats.

Pompidou was sufficiently prepared that not everything will be milk and honey during his visit. Though the French head of state is a sophisticated statesman, some American diplomats expressed concern he might become offended if the demonstrations are too noisy.

Nixon obviously wanted to offer as many signs as possible to convince Pompidou he is indeed the honored guest of this country.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said arrangements had been made "in accord with the friendship that exists between the two countries."

Nixon also will attend the formal dinner given by Pompidou at the French Embassy Wednesday night, a gesture the President has not normally made for other visiting heads of state.

Senate Democrats Are Drawing Up Plan to Battle for HEW Bill

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats are drawing the battle lines for a new confrontation with the White House over spending for education and health.

This time there is an added ingredient: a dispute over civil rights and school desegregation policies.

A Senate appropriations subcommittee headed by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., meets today to decide what to do about a $19.4-billion appropriation—which already faces a renewed veto warning.

Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch said he would advocate a veto—the fate of an earlier, $1.7 billion appropriation—unless the Senate makes or authorizes substantial spending cuts.

But Magnuson said it is possible the veto-threatened House version of the bill will quickly be cleared by the Senate Appropriations Committee and sent to the floor as it stands now.

That would leave it to the full Senate to change or accept the Magnuson bill, and it could speed the whole process considerably.

Magnuson said he would be inclined to favor acceptance of the House terms, at least on the appropriations issue, which would speed the bill to the White House.

The House on Feb. 19 passed a bill exceeding by $24 million the sum President Nixon said he would accept.

Finch wrote Magnuson that he would recommend another veto unless the spending total is cut, or the Senate agrees to give the President discretion over whether to spend the money.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., the Republican leader, said there will be an attempt to give Nixon that authority. He said he couldn't forecast the outcome.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., leader of the Democratic majority, flatly rejected the discretionary authority idea.

He said it would amount to an advance concession that the money Nixon did not approve is not going to be spent, even though Congress voted to spend it.

The civil rights issue is raised by three House amendments, designed to prohibit the forced busing of school children, to

Declares 30 Per Cent Admitted to Hospitals Don't Need to Be

WASHINGTON (AP) — A family doctor from North Carolina testified today that about 30 per cent of the people admitted to hospitals don't need to be.

"These patients could receive as good, or perhaps better—certainly less expensive—health and medical care by means other than by lying horizontal in a hospital bed," said Dr. Amos Johnson of Garland, N.C., a former president of the American Academy of General Practice.

Johnson's testimony was prepared for the Senate antitrust subcommittee, pending hearings on the high cost of hospitalization.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., the chairman, said he hoped to find ways in which more competition could bring down hospital prices, or at least prevent further increases.

Johnson blamed unnecessary hospital admissions on the health insurance system—and also on physicians who "find it much more convenient, time-saving and financially rewarding to see patients on an in-hospital basis."

He said medical education has for 20 to 30 years conditioned students to believe that the highest quality of care can be provided only if a patient is hospitalized.

"Well trained family physicians can comfortably and effectively care for 85 per cent of the usual ordinary illnesses that beset mankind," Johnson said. "And they can largely do this in the home."

U.S. Planes Concentrate on East Laos

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The United States is waging the Vietnam war's most concentrated B52 bombing campaign in eastern Laos, informed sources said today.

Sources estimated that more than 500 sorties—a sortie is one flight by one bomber—have been flown over the Ho Chi Minh trail so far this month in an effort to slow the movement of North Vietnamese war supplies into South Vietnam.

At the beginning of the month, the sources continued, a target selection panel shifted the emphasis of B52 raids from South Vietnam to North Vietnamese supply depots just across the border in Laos.

"There are now better targets in Laos and more of them there," said one source. "If they are stopped there, they don't get into South Vietnam."

The source said the raids were aimed at "a massive storage area" along the lower half of the Ho Chi Minh trail just across from the A Shau Valley in northern South Vietnam.

There has been no firm assessment of the bombers' effectiveness. But U.S. sources say there has been a "fair number of secondary explosions" indicating direct hits on ammunition and fuel stores.

About 30 bombers, in the eighth consecutive day of heavy strikes in eastern Laos, dropped nearly 900 tons of explosives today.

The U.S. Command does not admit to air activity in Laos and reported only two B52 missions in South Vietnam. It said 10 bombers attacked North Vietnamese base camps in the central highlands.

California Abortion Law Stands

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court let stand today a decision by California's Supreme Court that the state's abortion law is unconstitutional.

The U.S. high court made no comment as it rejected an appeal by California Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch from the 4-3 decision.

The law had prohibited medical abortions except when "necessary to preserve" the expectant mother's life. Violators were subject to two to five years in prison.

The California court ruled the phrase "necessary to preserve" was too vague for a physician to reasonably know when he was doing something illegal and when he was acting legally.

The California case involved prosecution of Dr. Leon Philip Belous, a Beverly Hills gynecologist who referred an unmarried young couple to another physician for an abortion in 1966. He was sentenced to probation. The California court threw out his conviction with its ruling.

California amended the 1850 law in 1967 to provide for a system of hospital abortions in a range of situations. The amendment is not involved in the Belous case.

Condemnation of Arab Terrorism Mounts in Wake of Bus Ambush

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Condemnation of Arab terrorism mounted today in the wake of the ambush of a busload of American Christians in Israel but the Cairo press was defiant.

The wife of a Baptist minister, Barbara Erle, 31, of Grandville, Mich., was killed, and two Americans and an Israeli guide were wounded. The wounded women were Tabea Damico, 55, Ventnor, N.J., and Lucille Draper, Buffalo, N.Y. Both were injured slightly in the leg by bullets.

California Abortion Law Stands

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court let stand today a decision by California's Supreme Court that the state's abortion law is unconstitutional.

The U.S. high court made no comment as it rejected an appeal by California Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch from the 4-3 decision.

The law had prohibited medical abortions except when "necessary to preserve" the expectant mother's life. Violators were subject to two to five years in prison.

The California court ruled the phrase "necessary to preserve" was too vague for a physician to reasonably know when he was doing something illegal and when he was acting legally.

The California case involved prosecution of Dr. Leon Philip Belous, a Beverly Hills gynecologist who referred an unmarried young couple to another physician for an abortion in 1966. He was sentenced to probation. The California court threw out his conviction with its ruling.

California amended the 1850 law in 1967 to provide for a system of hospital abortions in a range of situations. The amendment is not involved in the Belous case.
